

Ballet

This is a table with legs created by shaving solid wood using advanced woodworking techniques. The two legs shaved in a curved manner seamlessly connect to the support, and they feel soft even when touched with bare feet. The legs, support, and beams are organically elliptical. The gentle roundness of the legs and the edges' ridged lines harmonize together. The design, in which two legs attach to the interior part of the tabletop, allows multiple people to sit at the table without the legs getting in the way.
